About European Short Films Festival

The European Short Films Festival, part of the Eurochannel Short Film Tour, offers an authentic trip around Europe through exceptional programming.

It is a look at European cinema through the eyes of 54 innovative directors, known for their talent, originality and independence. With this selection of the best creation from all European countries, Eurochannel and the Miami-Florida European Union Center of Excellence invites fans of cinema and European culture to discover the newest faces and perspectives of the European film scene. During European Week – May 7-11, we will screen 28 short films.

Regularly awarded at short film festivals and often being shown for the first time outside of their country, all the shorts presented have a strong identity taken from a particular region of Europe. They all reflect unknown dimensions of European reality.

The European Short Films Festival has a strong regional footprint, revealing the creative genius of how cinema can be very diverse and surprising. Shaped by geographical and cultural features, those short films are as much charming as a work of one director's passion.

Stories of love or friendship in an adult's brutal world, painting of childhood feelings, stories of war or poverty, and comedies with unpredictable humor, Euro Channel and the Miami-Florida European Union Center of Excellence brings you the complexity of humanity as the European artists of the new generation sees it.

Screenings of the Eurochannel Short Films Tour are organized worldwide.
