

Multilevel Governance in Europe 2014

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The 'Multilevel Governance in Europe' program offers students the opportunity, after an initial 2-week session at FIU, to travel across Western Europe and visit major international organizations. Students explore the complexities of multiple levels of regional governance in Europe by visiting the European Union (EU) and Council of Europe institutions and courts in Brussels, Luxembourg and Strasbourg, as well as the United Nations (UN) organizations in Vienna. This educational tour consists of informational tours and dialogues with policy experts, complemented by excursions in some of the most historic cities in Europe.

LOCATION DESCRIPTION

The course starts with a 2-week introductory module on the FIU campus and then continues in the second half with train travels through Austria (Vienna, 4 days/nights), Germany (Munich, 3 days/nights), France (Strasbourg 3 days/nights), Luxembourg (2 days/nights), and Belgium (Brussels, 6 days/nights). The program includes a mix of historical excursions and institutional visits.

In all cities, students will stay in centrally located student hostels and will share their rooms with other students on the program.
