

The Russian Invasion of Ukraine

AS VIEWED BY UKRAINIAN SCHOLARS

Tuesday, June 7, 2022

Virtual Roundtable Participants: Biographical Notes

Nataliia Kasianenko, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor

Department of Political Science

California State University, Fresno

Areas of expertise: Comparative politics; international relations; Russian and East European politics; nationalism and identity.

Dr. Kasianenko is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science at California State University, Fresno. She received her Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Nevada, Reno. Her research focuses on Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an emphasis on nationalism, identity politics, and human rights in the countries of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union.

Her research primarily revolves around top-down and bottom-up elements of nationalism. She explores how political elites may intentionally intensify nationalism to gain legitimacy or advance to power, while also focusing on how and why the notions of national identity change on the individual level. Dr. Kasianenko relies on mixed methodology, including process tracing, multiple case studies, historical analysis, content analysis, regression analysis, non-linear models, and panel data.

As a native of Ukraine, she graduated from Karazin Kharkiv National University (2009) with a degree in Economics. She received her master's in International Relations from California State University, Fresno.

Roman Kalytchak, Ph.D.

Associate Professor

Department of International Relations and Diplomacy

Ivan Franko National University of Lviv

Fulbright Scholar at George Washington University

Roman Kalytchak is an Associate Professor of the Department of International Relations and Diplomacy and a Senior Research Fellow of the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence “Western Ukrainian Research Center of European Studies” at Ivan Franko National University of Lviv. He is a board member of the Ukrainian Association of Professors and Researchers on European Integration and a member of the Scientific and Curriculum Council of the Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine.

His research interests mainly include European Union Studies, EU-Ukraine Relations, International dimension of Regions and Cities, Higher Education in Ukraine and he has widely published on these topics.

Markus Thiel, Ph.D.

*Director, Miami-Florida Jean Monnet Center of Excellence
Associate Professor, Politics & International Relations
Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs
Florida International University*

Markus Thiel is associate professor in the Department of Politics and International Relations at Florida International University, Miami and director of FIU's Jean Monnet Center of Excellence. Dr. Thiel's research interests are the political sociology of the EU and European (Union) Politics more generally, as well as Nationalism & Identity Politics. He graduated with a Ph.D. from the University of Miami in 2005 and has published several EU-related articles and book chapters in peer-reviewed journals. In addition, his research on the political sociology of the EU produced the monograph, 'The Limits of Transnationalism' (Palgrave, 2011), and 5 co-edited volumes on: 'Diversity and the European Union' (with Lisa Pruegl, Palgrave, 2009), 'Identity Politics in the Age of Globalization' (with Roger Coate, Lynne Rienner/First Forum Press, 2010), 'European Identity & Culture: Narratives of Transnational Belonging' (with Rebecca Friedman, Ashgate, 2012), 'Sexualities in World Politics: How LGBTQ Claims Shape International Relations' (with Manuela Picq, Routledge, 2015) and 'EU Development Policies between Norms and Geopolitics' (with Sarah Beringer & Sylvia Maier, Palgrave, 2019). Most recently, he published a book on the linkage of European transnational civil society groups with the EU Fundamental Rights Agency: 'EU Civil Society and Human Rights Advocacy' (University of Pennsylvania Press, 2017). He supervises doctoral students in the areas of EU Politics and International Organizations.

*Funded by the European Union. Views and opinions expressed are however those of the Miami-Florida Jean Monnet Center of Excellence only and do not necessarily reflect those of the European Union.
Neither the European Union nor the granting authority can be held responsible for them."*

Made possible through generous support from the European Commission