

Lecture

“The Science and Technology Priorities during the Belgium Presidency of The Council the European Union”

Thursday, December 9, 2010

1:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.

FIU—Modesto A. Maidique Campus
11200 SW 8th Street—Miami, FL 33199
MARC Building—MARC 125

Bart Deelen

*Business Development Manager
Embassy of Belgium Washington D.C.*

Bart Deelen has been Business Development Manager in the Economic Section of the Embassy of Belgium since 2001, where his primary focus has been on U.S. regulatory developments that affect bilateral trade and investment. He also serves as the Embassy’s Science and Technology attaché and Energy and Environment attaché.

Previously he was Project Manager with the International Foundation for Election Systems (IFES) in Washington D.C. Before becoming a resident of the United States in 1999, he was Assistant Lecturer International Relations at the University of Leuven (Belgium). He holds a M.A. in European Politics and Law from the University Of Hull (UK). He also resided in Australia for 2 years.

► RSVP by Dec. 6th to calyc@fiu.edu

Sponsored by:
The Miami-Florida European Union Center of Excellence

